Employment Development

One of the most important things Interfaith Community Services can do is help struggling North County residents find a job.

Having a good, stable job is the key to building an independent, stable life. Interfaith gives people a “hand up,” not a hand out, so they can get back on their feet and become self-sufficient.

Interfaith teaches a variety of employment skills through workshops and one-on-one coaching at both our service centers in Escondido and Oceanside, including support to research job opportunities, build strong resumes, and prepare for interviews.

Employment Development Includes:

Vocational Development
Interfaith provides resume preparation, employment research, computer skill classes and more. Clients meet regularly to work through each step of their plan, receiving the direction and encouragement they need to succeed.

Computer Labs
Any client is able to utilize Interfaith’s computer labs to conduct job searches, employment research, resume building and other vocational activities. General direction and assistance is available.

North County Labor Connection
NCLC is a program where laborers connect with employers for daily, temporary, or permanent job needs. Clients are able to perform home improvement projects, painting, moving, yard work, construction clean-up and more.

Clearly Clean
Clearly Clean is a program that employs veterans, non-veterans and clients who may have mental or physical disabilities or other barriers to employment to provide business janitorial services in a supportive environment.
